TELLS ALUMNI ABOUT ATOMIC BOMB AND ITS EFFECTS NOW

In an address at the annual alumni dinner at Gettysburg College Friday evening Dr. J. S. Nicholas, Sterling professor of biology and master of Trumbull College, Yale University, traced the development of the atomic bomb and the effects it has reached at this time.

He told of Einstein's theory and how it progressed through the years.

"In 1939 the world was in conflict. Hitler, encouraged by Chamberlain's peaceful magnanimous gestures, launched his campaign for world dominance. He based his hopes for success on mechanization: tanks, bombers, rockets and nuclear fission. His wager was proper but his timing and procedure fortunately were wrong. He gambled on the heavy water method for separation of U235 and lost because we found this out in time and bombed his heavy water factories. This was a crucial point in winning the war in Europe.

"We now took up the project (atomic bomb) in earnest. It began with an urgent letter from Albert Einstein to President Franklin D. Roosevelt delivered by Alexander Sachs. Roosevelt called in Vannevar Bush and James B. Conant to advise him. The facts, but not the theories, presented by Einstein were equally available to the Germans. Bush and Conant were both keenly aware of the difficulties of completing the task and the necessity for securing fission first. They knew the nature of the gamble and suspected the time factor involved.

STARTED WITH $6,000

"With the President, Vice President Wallace and Secretary of War Stimson, these men served as the top atomic policy committee. President Roosevelt started the mission on its way with an appropriation of $6,000, never realizing that from his seed a two-billion-dollar plant in Hanford, Wash., would grow long before we had a workable bomb. Since then atomic research has added billions more to the federal budget. Most of this has been of a military nature leading to the H-bomb (thermonuclear or atomic fusion principle), but some of the expense has been for pure research during which we have discovered that the most important use of atomic energy can be for peace.

"Due to the successful occupation of Germany and the cessation of the European hostilities (Continued On Page 6)

GIRL SCOUTS MEET TUESDAY FOR FINAL VOTE

The 350 registered adult leaders of the Adams County Girl Scout Council have been asked to meet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Presbyterian Church to vote their organization out of existence.

The vote will be on whether the units comprising the council should join the Penn-Laurel Girl Scout Council which is scheduled to be made up of Franklin, Adams, York, Lancaster and Lebanon Counties. The new organization when it comes into existence will have its office at York.

The actual vote by which the Adams County Girl Scout Council, Inc., goes out of existence will be taken later, following the vote on merger with the other counties into the new unit expected to have 18,000 girl members.

Borough Health To Be Club Topic

Jack Libby, the county's representative from the state Department of Health, will be the speaker for the Gettysburg Lions at their weekly dinner meeting Monday evening at 6 o'clock at the VFW home. He will report to the clubmen on some of the problems found during the recent health survey in Gettysburg.

Mrs. Rebecca Schwenk, chairman of the health committee of the Gettysburg borough council, also will attend.

Reservations will be taken Monday for the ladies' night dinner to be held by the club June 12 at the Cashtown fire hall.

There will be a meeting of the board of directors of the club after the general session Monday evening.

DR. GRESH TO GIVE SERMON HERE JUNE 11

A special service observing the 50th anniversary of the cornerstone laying of the present church building will be observed at St. James Lutheran Church Sunday, June 11, at the 10:45 a.m. service.

The guest speaker for this occasion will be the Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor of Zion Lutheran Church, Leacock, Pa. Dr. Gresh served for 15 years as pastor of St. James congregation from January, 1941, to December, 1955.

The present church building and main Sunday School structure were erected in 1911. The cornerstone of the new church was laid June 9, 1911. The pastor of the congregation at the time of the church's construction was the Rev. Dr. Joseph B. Baker who had begun his work in the parish November 7, 1909. Within two months after Dr. Baker was installed, the congregation on January 10, 1910, took action to build a new church. The first services were held in the new Sunday School chapel on April 7, 1912, and the new church was dedicated on September 15, 1912.

BURNED IN 1928
During the 50th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg observance, July 1, 2, 3, 1913, the chapel and social rooms of the church were used as a dormitory and dining room area. Several thousand persons were fed during that observance.

During the establishment of Camp Colt in 1917-18 in Gettysburg, the Sunday School building was turned into a free dormitory for the use of the soldiers' relatives, which was especially used during the flu epidemic in the fall of 1918.

The church structure was almost completely destroyed by fire in the fall of 1928. The walls remained standing and the present external structure of the church is the same, although the inside of the church was altered in its design during the rebuilding in 1929.

Dr. Gresh was the 23rd pastor to serve St. James congregation and held one of the longest pastorates in the 175-year history of the congregation. Dr. Gresh will preach only at 10:45 o'clock.

BURY MRS. CURRENS

Pallbearers were Roy Carbaugh, Glenn Carbaugh, Warren McDannell, Rodney McDannell, Ira Kump and Earl Kump.

Suspected Assassin Slain In Manhunt For Murderers Of Dictator R. L. Trujillo

By E. L. ALMEN

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Dominican government claimed today to have shot dead one of the assassins of dictator Rafael Trujillo and captured three others. But the accused mastermind of the plot was still at large.

Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr., the dictator's son, was directing the manhunt for members of the band of killers amid reports of a widespread crack down on suspected antigovernment elements. The plot against the elder Trujillo, who ruled with a tyrannical hand for 31 years, was disclosed to have reached right into the presidential palace.

The slain assassin was identified as 1st Lt. Amado Garcia Guerrero, an aide to President Joaquin Balaguer, the figurehead Dominican chief of state.

CHIEF PLOTTER HIDES

The accused chief plotter, retired Gen. Juan Tomas Diaz, was still at large.

TO APPLY FOR U. S. FUNDS FOR LIBRARY HERE

A committee for the board of directors of the Adams County Public Library was appointed Friday evening to initiate steps which, it is hoped, will lead to the use of federal funds here which may be available under the Library Services Act passed by Congress several years ago.

The action followed a conference with state Librarian Ralph Blasingame, who attended the June meeting of the library's board of directors, reported on pending state legislation affecting libraries and described the procedure by which the county library may seek creation of a demonstration here of rural library service with federal funds allotted by the state librarian.

The committee, appointed by Board President H. Thomas Pyle, will have Atty. Donald Oylar as its chairman and will include Donald B. Hudson, C. P. Keefer, Dr. Frank N. Hewitson and Mrs. Leon Roos.

MUST EXPAND SERVICES

Blasingame described demonstration projects in rural library service already underway with federal funds in Warren and two other Pennsylvania counties. He said a plan for county library service here should be prepared and forwarded to his office by the library board. He said federal funds could be allotted for use for from one to three years.

The state librarian also described the new state library service bill which has been passed by both Houses at Harrisburg but in slightly different form. A concurrence vote by the House is expected next week, he said. The new bill is aimed at improving library service throughout the state and if the bill passes, he said, it will be up to libraries all over the state to take advantage of the opportunities offered.

"The local library will be the keystone of library service under the new bill and local library service will have to be expanded (Continued On Page 2)

PET OFFICIALS ADDRESS CHM CLUB MEMBERS

Richard S. Jones and William H. Harsha, two vice presidents of the Pet Milk Company, St. Louis, Mo., were the principal speakers at the June meeting of the CHM Club held Friday evening in the C. H. Musselman Company cafeteria at Biglerville.

Glenn A. Heller, president, presided at a brief business meeting and introduced Earl W. Crum, program chairman. Speaking on the merger of the two companies, Jones welcomed the Musselman Company personnel to the Pet organization by quoting a statement of T. R. Gamble, president, to Pet employees, representing about 70 plants throughout the nation and Canada on the occasion of its 75th anniversary: "People are our greatest resource. You 6,500 Pet employees are truly our most important assets. The character and reputation of our company are the result of your loyalty, your interest and your work. Pet Milk Company itself is merely the reflection of the people who comprise it."

Jones then presented a history and background of Pet Milk Company by tracing the lives of the (Continued On Page 2)

161 GIRLS TO GO CAMPING NEXT MONDAY

One hundred sixty-one girls from the Gettysburg Girl Scout troops Monday will inaugurate the 1961 day camping season at Camp Happy Valley.

The number is 15 more than the record set last year, and will include 14 Senior Girl Scouts who will go as a unit and carry on their own program during the period starting Monday and ending Friday.

Miss Barbara Allison will be counselor for the Senior Girl Scouts who will study lashing, fire building and other camping crafts during the week as a basic training for the Senior Scout Roundup.

TO RUN BUSES

The Senior Scouts will join in the regular camp activities of the Intermediates and Brownies only on the closing afternoon next Friday when they will present one of the skits at the campfire.

Buses for the day camp will leave from St. James Lutheran Church here each morning next week at 8:30 o'clock. The buses will return to the church at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Members of the Catholic troops here will not join the other Gettysburg troops during the week's camping because their school activities continue. They will attend later in the month.

A total of 149 girls have registered for the Juliette Low (Upper Adams) Neighborhood Day Camp starting June 12. The Littlestown Neighborhood Camp starts June 19 and the Trefoil (East Berlin-York Springs) Neighborhood Camp starts June 26.

Eisenhower Is Named Trustee

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was elected a trustee of Gettysburg College at a meeting of the board this morning at the college. He succeeds Dr. William J. Miller, who resigned because of ill health. Gen. Eisenhower's term runs to 1966.

The board accepted the resignation of Dr. William J. Miller, of Philadelphia, as trustee because of ill health. He was made trustee emeritus. The board then appointed General Dwight D. Eisenhower to fill the unexpired term of Dr. Miller to 1966.

Dr. Luther H. Snyder, of Washington, D. C., nominated by the Alumni Association was elected for a six-year term as alumni representative on the board. Re-elected for six-year terms were Dr. Paul R. Sieber, surgeon, of Pittsburgh; Horace G. Ports, attorney, York, and Donald K. Weiser, insurance executive, Glen Ellyn, Ill.

GIVE PRIZES TO 8TH GRADERS

Presentation was made at Gettysburg High School Friday afternoon of the annual Edward Johnson McPherson memorial prizes to the two boys and two girls in the Eighth Grade with the top scholastic averages for the last year's work.

The first prize for girls went to Paula Denise Olinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Olinger, 137 S. Washington St.

The first prize for boys was won by David Royer Rice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Rice Jr., 135 W. Broadway.

The second place awards were won by Nancy Jane Murdock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth P. Murdock, 860 Highland Ave., and Dennis Ray Dague, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson H. Dague, Littlestown R. 1.

Names of the winners were announced by Paul R. Mehring, assistant high school principal.

Accused Of Serving Beer To Four Minors

Roy E. Harman, 25, Fairfield R. 2, was arrested by Cumberland Twp. Policeman Bernard V. Miller Sr. Friday night on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors and in default of $1,000 bail was committed to the Adams County Jail by Justice of the Peace John Whitman.

The justice said Harman was charged with furnishing a case of beer to juveniles in his car. The juveniles, according to the justice, were three girls aged 14, 19 and 20 and two boys both aged 17.

Harman is scheduled for arraignment before Whitman this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

3 COUNTIANS ARE ARRESTED

Three Adams County residents were arrested by state police of the local substation Friday afternoon on charges of pool selling, bookmaking and setting up and maintaining gambling devices.

Cpl. James Treas said this morning that John Young Jr., 53, and Amelia Livelsberger, 46, both of East Berlin, were arrested at their homes Friday noon and Dale Schultz, 39, Oxford Twp., was taken into custody about 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Treas said Schultz, who was charged before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder with setting up and maintaining gambling devices, had punchboards in his home and on a truck allegedly owned by him, while the other two were charged with pool selling and bookmaking. Treas added that betting slips were found at their home and there was evidence to show that they had been receiving and placing bets.

Schultz pleaded guilty to his charge at his arraignment before Justice Snyder late Friday and was released on $1,000 bail for sentence court. Young and Livelsberger also were released on $500 bail for a hearing at a later date.

Kennedy And Khrushchev Begin Talks In Vienna

VIENNA (AP)—President Kennedy met with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in neutral Vienna today to warn against war danger in a new Berlin crisis and to urge Soviet disarmament concessions.

The youthful U.S. leader, fresh from an allied harmony conference with French President Charles de Gaulle, received Khrushchev at the U.S. Embassy residence in suburban Vienna at 11:45 a.m.

Khrushchev, outwardly confident, arrived in Vienna Friday and said cautiously, "We know one cannot settle everything at once. If, however, one has good will, one can also achieve much within a short time."

After alighting from his plane this morning Kennedy stood at attention as a band played the American and Austrian national anthems and then inspected an

Will File Manslaughter Charge In Auto Death Of 'Billy' Renner; Blame Tully

YOUTH UNHURT AS AUTO ROLLS OVER 3 TIMES

Robert C. Troxell, 22, of 24 Carlisle St., escaped injury this morning at 1:10 o'clock when his car left Buford Ave., broke off a utility pole and rolled over three times onto the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary lawn.

Borough police said Troxell was driving east, enroute home from the West Gettysburg Inn, when he apparently fell asleep and his car went off the side of the street "about halfway down the hill" and hit the pole, then started rolling.

Damage to the demolished 1950 vehicle was estimated at $125.

Police charged Troxell before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder with reckless driving and driving without an operator's license. In default of bail for a hearing before the Justice Monday, he was lodged in the county jail.

TWO ACCIDENTS

The officers said Troxell had "no driver's license, no owner's card and no insurance." The "no owner's card" part of the police complaint against Troxell was held in abeyance after Troxell's wife said that she was certain her husband had such a license. Officer Paul Shealer said. The accident was one of two investigated during the night.

At 9:30 o'clock Friday evening state police were called to a crash five miles north of here on (Continued On Page 2)

1961 TOURISTS HAVE PASSED HALF MILLION

More than half a million tourists have visited the Gettysburg Battlefield so far this year.

John Rogers, National Park ranger in charge of the daily tabulation of visitors, said 514,612 persons have been on the field since January 1. That figure compares with 341,899 counted up to the end of May last year.

Visitation in May totaled 225,713, compared to 148,309 during the comparable month a year ago.

BUS TOTAL DOUBLES
Of the 225,713 on the field during May, buses accounted for 78,770. The bus riders were in 1,940 buses which compares to 960 buses with 38,896 persons riding in them on the battlefield during April.

May normally is the "big month" for bus visitations to the battlefield. Most schools bringing classes here schedule the bus trip for May.

Included in the count during May was a record high—in recent years—for horses. A total of 95 horsemen toured the field. They traveled in two groups and probably were the largest number on the field in any one month since the horse gave place to the automobile.

In January this year the number of tourists were 13,160; February, 17,766; March the visitation had increased to 81,854, and by April it had jumped to 100,111.

MERCHANTS TO MEET

The Retail Merchants Association will meet in the lower court room of the courthouse Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. All members are urged to attend.

A coroner's jury Friday afternoon blamed James P. Tully, 25, 351 E. King St., Littlestown, for the automobile accident death of Frederick W. "Billy" Renner, 20, Fairfield R. 1, early last Sunday morning on the Fairfield-Orrtanna Rd.

This morning District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter told The Gettysburg Times: "It is planned that a charge of involuntary manslaughter will be filed against Tully."

The coroner's jury found Tully, who had admitted to a round of visits to area taverns during the evening and recalled having had six bottles of beer, was driving at an "excessive speed" and had run off both sides of the road before shattering a concrete roadside abutment which caused his car to overturn.

APPEARS ON CRUTCHES

The jury also wrote that, in view of the evidence of Tully's drinking, "we believe this may have contributed" as a cause of the accident. Renner was thrown out of the car when it turned over and died about two hours later in the Warner Hospital.

Tully, who appeared at the inquest on crutches and with an ankle in a cast from chip fractures he suffered in the crash, volunteered to testify although Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, warned him that anything he said there could be used against him in court. Tully was not represented by an attorney.

Tully told the coroner's jury that he believed he "was in shape to drive" after he left the Rock Top Inn. He and Renner had spent more than an hour there after earlier visits that evening to the Hillside Inn on the Emmitsburg Rd., the Battlefield Tavern here and the West Gettysburg Inn. Both he and Renner drank beer at each stop, he said. Tully recalled having six bottles.

INCIDENT AT ROCK TOP

Under questioning by the coroner and District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter, Tully told of the evening he and Renner, old friends, had spent together when he found Renner home on a weekend pass from Navy duty. They drove to Gettysburg via Emmitsburg. At the West Gettysburg Inn, he said, Renner suggested going to Rock Top. "So we slipped up there," he said.

Questions from Dr. Crist and the district attorney refreshed Tully's memory about an incident at Rock Top in which it developed that he had been called down by the manager's wife for "not behaving" during a Paul Jones dance.

Tully estimated his speed at 40 to 55 miles an hour on the road to Fairfield when he came upon an S-curve and "a sort of dip in the road." He said his car ran off the right side of the road and struck the abutment but he had no recollection of having first been off the left side of the road as the state policeman later testified. He said he was familiar with the road and, when asked to explain the cause of the accident, he blamed "highway conditions" and mentioned the curve and "dip."

"VERY HIGH SPEED

Trooper Gerald Kruba of the state police at Gettysburg, who investigated, said Tully ran off the left side of the road for 60 feet, crossed the road and traveled 80 feet before shattering the abutment and then went on 198 feet to where it stopped on its top with Renner lying about 45 feet away on the highway.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations with a white rosebud center and trailing ivy. Her jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

ATTENDED BY SISTER

The maid of honor, Teresa M. Redding, bride's sister, Gettysburg, was attired in a ballerina-length gown of yellow embroidered nylon sheer over white tulle, fashioned with a scooped neckline, short sleeves and tucked cummerbund around midriff, ending in flowing panels in the back of the embroidered bouffant skirt. Her matching picture hat was accented with a rose at the crown. She carried a cascade bouquet of daisies, green carnations and ivy. The bridesmaids were Sheila Overbaugh, McSherrystown; Barbara Redding, Gettysburg; and Carolyn Hankey, Twin Oaks. They wore moss green embroidered gowns, identical to the maid of honor's. Their picture hats matched the gowns accented with a rose at the crown. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow daisies, carnations and ivy.

The best man was Philip H. Kenworthy, the groom's brother, McSherrystown. The ushers were Martin J. Redding, brother of the bride, Pittsburgh; Wayne V. Kenworthy, brother of the groom; John D. Bream, Thomas J. Winter and George Bender, all of Gettysburg.

Altar boys were James and Ronald Redding, brothers of the bride. The ringbearer was Edward Florence, bride's cousin, James-town, N. Y. The flower girl, Rose Marie Smith, the bride's cousin, Gettysburg, was attired in a white organza dress with lace inserts in bodice and moss green sash. She carried a basket of carnations and rose petals. A wreath of daisies on her head completed her outfit.

RECEPTION FOR 200

The bride's mother was attired in a blue silk organza sheath dress with a blue lace bodice and white accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses. The groom's mother wore a pink silk organza sheath dress and pink and white accessories. She wore a violet and white pansy corsage.

The reception was held in Xavier Hall for approximately 200 guests.

For their wedding trip to Florida, the bride chose lavender sheath dress with white jacket, trimmed in lavender and white and lavender accessories. Her corsage was of white roses. Upon return they will reside at 516 Baltimore St.

ON COLLEGE STAFF

The bride is a 1957 graduate of Delone Catholic High School, McSherrystown, and a member of Beta Sigma Phi sorority. She is employed as secretary for Atty. J. Francis Yake Jr.

The groom is a 1954 graduate of Delone Catholic High School and attended Gettysburg College and Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg. He is sports information director at Gettysburg College.

Out-of-town guests were from Ontario, Canada; Connecticut, Tennessee, Maryland, New York, Pittsburgh, York, Littlestown, Hanover, Philadelphia, New Oxford and McSherrystown.

Miss Judy Weikert, Wilmington, Del., arrived home Friday night to spend the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald S. Weikert, R. 2.

WILL PRESENT COMMISSIONS

General Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, will speak at commissioning exercises and present commissions, Army and Air Force ROTC, at Gettysburg College Sunday morning.

A West Point graduate, General Lemnitzer served until World War II in various artillery assignments in the U.S. and the Philippines. Among his principal assignments during World War II were: Commanding general 34th Antiaircraft Brigade in England and during the Tunisian and Sicilian campaigns; assistant chief of staff on General Eisenhower's staff for the planning and early operations of the North African invasion; General Mark Clark's deputy in the secret submarine landing in North Africa in 1942.

Since World War II, General Lemnitzer's key staff and command assignments have included: Commanding general, 11th Airborne Division; commanding general, 7th Division in Korea where he led the division in the battles of Heartbreak Ridge, the Punch-bowl, Mundung-ni Valley and in the fighting in the Chorwon and Kumhwa Valleys; commander-in-chief, Far East and United Nations Commands and governor of the Ryuku Islands; vice chief of staff, U.S. Army, since October 1, 1960, chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff.

General Lemnitzer holds numerous U.S. and foreign decorations. He is a parachutist and a distinguished marksman.

Emmitsburg Man Jailed 50 Days

An Emmitsburg resident, Paul Boling, was sentenced to 50 days in the Frederick County jail in lieu of $50 fine Friday in Frederick after he was found guilty of disorderly conduct and drinking on a public street.

Boling was arrested May 28 by Officer W. E. Law, chief of the Emmitsburg Police. Law said he observed the defendant, his brother, Harold J. Boling, and Arnold Staley, all of Emmitsburg, "creating a disturbance on the main street." Both Staley and Harold J. Boling have posed $50 collateral for the violations.

Boling's only defense was that he had had too much to drink when the incident occurred.

IS LOW BIDDER

Frank Barvitski, Shamokin, is the apparent low bidder for the painting of four state highway bridges in Adams County, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg. Barvitski's bid, opened Friday, was $3,960.

Engagements

MISS HALL

Mr. and Mrs. Russell G. Hall, Gettysburg R. 6, announce the engagement of their daughter Elizabeth Jane, Cleveland, Ohio, to Robert Swartz, Cleveland, Ohio, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Swartz, of Youngstown and Miami, Fla. Miss Hall is a graduate of Biglerville High School in 1950 and Shippensburg State College in 1955.

Mr. Swartz is a graduate of Youngstown South High in 1946, and Ohio State University in 1951, and is now employed by the Cleveland branch office of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith.

The wedding will take place at Bender's Lutheran Church, Biglerville, on Saturday, July 8.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Grace E. Hull, daughter of Mrs. Chester F. Hull and the late Mr. Hull, East Berlin, to Donald L. Cook, son of the Rev. and Mrs. O. Wayne Cook, of Dillsburg R. 3.

Miss Hull is a graduate of the Bermsburg Springs Joint High School. Mr. Cook, a graduate of Northern Joint High School, is employed by Carroll Builders, Inc.

No date has been set for the wedding.

8TH GRADERS ARE PROMOTED

Approximately 200 persons attended the annual promotion exercises for the Eighth Grade Conewago Twp. School Thursday evening at the school. The 40 students were presented certificates of promotion by George Worley, president of the township school board.

Edward G. Jones, principal of Hanover Junior High School, was the speaker. Invocation and benediction were offered by Rev. Norman Wilson, Gettysburg Theological Seminary.

J. Arthur Wolfe, supervising principal, presented certificates to the members of the safety patrol and certificates for achievement in science.

GIVES CLASS HISTORY

The class history was presented by Donna Pottorff and David Rein-dollar. John Donnelly and Michael Hemler read the class will.

The program theme "Our Scrapbook," included excerpts from the year's assemblies. Participating were David Lamb, Jeanne Wentz, Keith Reese, Thomas Epley, Thomas Storms, Dennis King, Candace Bollinger, Barry Arthur, Antonia Williams, Bonita Markle, Gary Flickinger, Linda Wolfe, Ronald Simpson, Wayne Hailey, Alvin Bohrer, Dawn Horner, Wayne McClellan, Miles Brooks, Kenneth Becker, Andrew Papoutsis, Edward Murray and Mary Harpster.

School Senior Drowns in Pond

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — A 19-year-old high school senior who would have graduated next Thursday drowned in a farm pond near Hannastown Friday.

He was William L. Schuster Jr. of Jeannette R. 2, a pupil at Hempfield Area Senior High School.

Schuster and a classmate, William Bien, 19, of Hannastown, were at the pond.

Bien said Schuster had been wading around the edge of the pond then got into difficulty. Bien said he tried to help Schuster but was pulled under himself. Bien said he broke loose and called for help.

Skin divers recovered Schuster's body. The skin divers and firemen tried in vain for 45 minutes to revive him.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A young Mexican wife began collecting money today for a tractor to exchange for the freedom of her husband, captured during the April invasion fiasco in Cuba.

Cecilia Velazquez de Rodriguez, 25, a government employee, was allowed to spend four days with her husband, Cmdr. Oscar Rodriguez, in a Havana prison.

34 FIREMEN ARE ISSUED CERTIFICATES

Thirty-four members of three Conewago Twp. fire departments Friday night received certificates for successful completion of a fire school held under sponsorship of the Brushtown, Conewago and Midway fire companies.

Richard Jordan, Camp Hill, of the state fire school, Lewistown, the instructor, was presented with a cigarette lighter inscribed with his name and that of the three fire units at the graduation program held in the Brushtown Fire House.

Praising the group, Jordan said: "A fire school is as good as the men who attend it, and this is one of the most successful schools I have ever seen. Of the 41 originally enrolled in the course 34 completed it, and there would have been more had not several of the men been transferred from day to night work."

GRAD AT 71

Jordan and the other members of the class joined in praising Charles Boone of the Brushtown company, who completed the fire course at age 71 and was described by his fire chief, Claude Murren, as "one of our most active members." Jordan said: "Boone, I believe, is the oldest active fireman in the state. We have a number of fire company members who are older than he is, but they have long since retired from active participation."

For their training, the Conewago Twp. firemen had two buildings in which to set fires of different types. The buildings were donated by a Brushtown area resident and hauled to the Brushtown fire house property for the school. The school was rotated during the 15 weeks between the three fire houses in the township.

MEMBERS OF CLASS

Those receiving certificates for completion of the school were: Brushtown, William Roth, Charles Boone, Lewis Klunk, Gilbert Stahl, Fire Chief Claude Murren, Peter Hockensmith, Steven Klunk, Edward Masenheimer Jr., Stephen Murren, Henry and Terry Conner, James Roth, Charles Wolfe and Edgar C. B. Worley. Conewago, Chief H. Carroll Sneeringer, Richard Smith, John Poist, Donald Sneeringer, Raymond Liversberger, Mark Brady, Donald Liversberger, Robert E. Sneeringer, Raymond Moore and Larry Groft.

Midway, Francis Sneeringer, Cyril Hockensmith, Gary Hockensmith, Harold Epley, Burnell Lookingbill, Al Boone, Ray Hunter, John Hawn Jr., George Becker and Leo Leonard.

TO APPLY FOR

by increased hours, increased staffs and more extensive book stocks so that the library can serve all the individuals in its area better and perform more fully its role as a cultural agency in the community." Blasingame said.

TO PAINT LIBRARY

Part of the problem of libraries in this state was pointed up by Blasingame when he noted that from 1957 to 1959 the state's population went up two per cent, library circulation went up 15 per cent and their book stocks went up half of one per cent.

The board awarded the contract for the painting of the exterior of the library to Charles Kerrigan at his bid of $1,270. He was the lower of two bidders. The building is to be painted antique gray with a white trim. Work is to start in two weeks.

The board discussed and authorized refurbishing of frames of Charles Morris Young pictures on display in the library reading room. Better lighting also is to be provided for the pictures.

LIBRARIAN IN HOSPITAL

The report of the treasurer, Dr. Hewetson, showed a balance of $2,056. Bills totaling $2,035 were ordered paid.

The monthly circulation report showed 3,614 book loans in May as compared with 8,913 the same month last year. The total loans through the main library was higher than last year but total through book stations and school stations showed slight declines. The bookmobile traveled 248 miles last month.

Mrs. Marjory Hinkle of the library staff served as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Mary S. Wilson, county librarian, who is at a Warner Hospital patient.

In addition to President Pyle, these directors attended: Dr. John Anderson, Mr. Hudson, Dr. Hewetson, Don Becker, Mrs. R. C. Lott, Mrs. Roos and Mr. Oyler. The board will meet next on July 7.

MILLBURN, N. J. (AP) — Robert Woodruff Besch Sr., 42, assistant sales manager of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., was shot to death by his 14-year-old son, police said today.

The son, Robert Jr., admitted shooting his father with a .22 caliber pistol, police said. They said the boy had been undergoing psychiatric treatment for about a year.

Sends Letter About Second Cover Spray

The second cover spray for apples should be applied eight to 10 days after the first cover spray, Adams County Farm Agent Frank S. Zettle told apple growers in his sixth information letter.

Apple scab still is a problem in many orchards, he wrote. As in the first cover, control is now a matter of living with an existing situation. Where scab is present, growers should hold the capital to two pounds dilute (six pounds concentrate). Karathen should be added where mildew is present, he added.

Growers should see pages 12 and 17 of the apple and peach spray schedule for 1961 for further information. He concluded that the guntion-TDE mixture is preferred as the insecticide, because it will give some mite control.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The United States signed agreements here today to give South Korea $2 million in aid. The signing was a formality for continuing education, public works, mine and railroad projects that were approved before the May 16 military coup.

PARIS (AP) — French security precautions today extended right down to the hand baggage for President and Mrs. Kennedy on leaving for Vienna.

Two small pickup trucks carrying the luggage of the presidential party were escorted to Orly airport by motorcycle policemen with sirens wide open.

five men most responsible for its growth and development: Louis Latzer, founder; Fritz Kaeser, director for more than 30 years; William Nardin, executive vice president and responsible for the development of Pet's marketing and advertising program; John A. Latzer, president, 1924-1952, and Robert L. Latzer, president, 1952-1959. Jones pointed out that Pet is credited as the originator of evaporated milk.

OUTLINES STRUCTURE

Harsha spoke on the Pet organizational structure, outlining the management realignment in 1959 encompassing the very latest developments in corporate management techniques. He pointed out that the company's centralize operations are divided into three autonomous operating divisions: Dairy, food products, Canadian.

Operating with the company president is a corporate staff comprised of the secretary, treasurer, comptroller and heads of these divisions: Production, marketing, corporation planning, research and development, public relations, legal and personnel.

J. A. Hauser, president of the C. H. Musselman Company, in a brief talk traced the developments that led to the merger of the two companies.

"He had to be going at a very high rate of speed," the trooper said. He estimated a speed of 60 to 70 miles an hour would have been necessary for the car to perform as it did.

The trooper said previous questioning of Tully had brought no mention of the drinking places except Rock Top and West Gettysburg. "I heard about the first two this afternoon for the first time," the officer said. Earlier Tully had admitted to "five or six beers" and mentioned only the two drinking places. He said Tully told him he taught Renner was "21 or 22" and Tully told the coroner Renner's age was not questioned at any of the taverns. Renner was 20 years old.

DR. DOO ON STAND

Bruce Fitz, 11, Littlestown, nephew of Tully, who had spent the evening in the rear seat of the Tully car, testified he was "nearly asleep" when the accident happened. Estimates of the car's speed by the boy at various times ranged from 70 down to 50 miles an hour. Fitz had only minor injuries.

The first witness was Dr. Gerald Doo, Warner Hospital surgeon, who described the trio's injuries when they were brought to the hospital. He noted the odor of alcohol on Tully, he said.

Members of the coroner's jury were Barbara Bushey, Pauline Miller, Jay Sixeas, Clair Sanders, Paul Ketterman Jr. and Hugh C. McIlhenny, the foreman.

DEATH

Teresa L. Offutt

Teresa Louise Offutt, 11, daughter of Atty. and Mrs. W. Jerome Offutt, Frederick, drowned Friday morning in Culler Lake, Frederick, where she and her pet dog had gone to play.

Surviving in addition to her parents, are the following brothers and sister: William Jerome Offutt Jr., student at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg; Grace Marie Offutt, Thomas Francis Offutt and Paul Joseph Offutt all at home.

The child was a member of St. John's Catholic Church, Frederick.

COUPLE WEDS THIS MORNING

Miss Sylvia T. Strasbaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Strasbaugh, R. 5, and Patrick J. Eckenrode, son of Mrs. Rose Eckenrode, Hanover, were united in marriage this morning at 9 o'clock in St. Joseph Catholic Church, Hanover. The double-ring ceremony was used and nuptial mass was celebrated by the Rev. Fr. Louis Forgen. The altar was decorated with white and pink gladioli and snapdragons. Mrs. Bernard Walters will be the organist and the children's choir will provide the singing.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a long white gown of imported Swiss embroidered eyelet organza, fashioned with a scalloped neckline short sleeves and basque waistline. The bouffant skirt featured embroidery and deep hemline. Her veil of pure silk illusion fell from a crown of pearls. She carried a front-line bouquet of white chrysanthemums and roses with an orchid corsage in the center.

HOLD RECEPTION

The maid of honor, Miss Kathleen Strasbaugh, Gettysburg R. 5, was attired in a street-length dress of aqua silk organza over taffeta with empire waist and puffed sleeves, accented by pearl-studded bows. Her bouffant skirt featured a deep hemline and her matching headband was trimmed with pearls and a nose veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of carnations and roses. The bridesmaids, Jane Strasbaugh, R. 5, and Veronica Orndorff, R. 5, wore gowns fashioned like that of the honor attendant, but in yellow and lilac, respectively. They carried colonial bouquets of carnations before the Germans were able to make the bomb, the British were saved from an atomic bombing which would have been delivered by the V-3 rockets then in the process of construction. Fortunately our successful, though costly, bombing of the Norwegian plants for heavy water production delayed the German work on atomic fission and, while it is impossible to determine accurately what would have happened, it is deemed likely that the German atomic bomb would not have been ready for another year. It is estimated that our time advantage was between six months and one year which is all too short a period in determining the margin between victory and defeat. We won that race but by a narrow margin.

"BIGGEST GAMBLE"

"On the day that bomb was mounted on the pedestal at Alamogordo and primed on the morning of July 16 the scientists were to see the result of the biggest gamble so far attempted in the history of the world. Dr. Conant states that the type of tension while awaiting the detonation was dual for the scientists feared both that it would and that it would not take place. It was apparent to these men that success of the experiment meant a new social order, failure meant a new effort to attain the end which fortunately was then achieved, or life under the social order of Hitler.

"A new problem has developed which up to the present we have postponed but not solved. This is the disposal of the by-products of nuclear fission or fusion. At present we have used a temporary expedient realizing that it will eventually have to be superseded by another type of solution. We cannot continue indefinitely to dump our residues in the sea in huge concrete vaults and roses.

The best man was Benedict Strasbaugh, R. 5. The ushers were Richard Eckenrode, Littlestown R. 2, and Lavere Long, R. 5.

A reception was held at the home of the bride and the couple left on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls. The bride wore a green and white candy striped cotton dress for traveling and white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of Delone Catholic High School and is employed at Sylvania Shoe Mfg., McSherrystown. The groom served four years in the United States Navy and is employed by Busy Bee Cleaners, Littlestown.

Buffalo, N. Y., was the first city in the nation to light its streets with electricity.

hoping that the disintegration will proceed without damage to the sea and its occupants as well as to those whose water life-line will depend on the distillation of water which could be radioactive from the atomic refuse. Nor can we continue indefinitely the storage of the wastes in underground tanks.

"CAPITAL PROBLEM"

"Disposal of atomic waste represents a capital problem and while for the present or for the rest of the century it is not critically pressing it is for the future for which the planning must be done now. The desmids and diatoms in the oceanic ooze will eventually become weary of temporarily absorbing the half-life disintegrations as they escape from concrete entombment.

"Two courses are evidently open to us—the obvious one, in which some steps have been taken, is to chemically disintegrate or change the atomic waste into noninjurious particles. The products of atomic fusion can be handled almost completely by this process. The second is to postpone the problem by using our satellites to carry these products into outer space. Perhaps, you know, the appearance of the man in the moon could be improved if he were radioactive, a new effulgence might be seen in the contours of his mien, radioactive he has never been, its bluish would hardly tinge his skin.

"Here we temporarily may leave our atomic problem. It is one which impinges upon us all for this age has changed our thoughts, our concepts and our fears. We must live with it."

CONDUCT SEMINAR

Dr. Richard T. Mara, chairman of Gettysburg College's physics department, was the moderator for a seminar which followed Dr. Nicholas' address. Dr. F. William Sunderman, director of metabolic research and clinical professor of medicine at Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, discussed nuclear energy in the field of medicine. He has been a medical consultant at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala., and at Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory.

Industrial uses of atomic energy were discussed by Dr. George Lisle Beers, technical advisor in patents and licensing at the Radio Corporation of America, Princeton, N. J.

Dr. Howard Rasmussen, an assistant professor and associate physician at Rockefeller Institute, New York City, discussed the biological effects of atomic energy.

Dr. Nicholas presented additional data on the subject which he had mentioned in his talk at the dinner.

The five men are Gettysburg alumni and well known in the fields of research.

this morning at 11 o'clock. The nuptial mass was celebrated by the Rev. Fr. Francis Lahout. The double-ring ceremony was used. The altar was decorated with snapdragons and chrysanthemums. Music was furnished by the children's choir under the direction of Mrs. Bernard Henry.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle fashioned into a scalloped neckline and long tapered sleeves above a bouffant skirt styled with tiers of lace and tulle, ending in a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of lace and seed pearls. She carried a bridal prayerbook, a gift from the groom, with a white orchid and a shower of stephanotis.

The maid of honor, Mary Ann Sanders, sister of the bride, Harrisburg, was attired in a street-length dress in orchid silk organza, designed with a square neckline, three-quarter sleeves and a waistline inset with a taffeta band and small bow. Her matching flower band held a circular veil. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white rosebuds and yellow carnations trimmed in white.

IN WEDDING PARTY

The bridesmaids, Theresa Sanders, sister of the bride, McSherrystown, and Rosalie Schuchart, roommate of the bride, wore dresses in yellow, designed the same as that of the maid of honor and silk organza rose headbands with circular veils. They carried a Colonial bouquet of white rosebuds and orchid carnations with white trim. All three wore one-strand pearls and earrings, gifts of the bride, and matching shoes. The flower girl, Jean Huff, Hanover, wore a street-length dress of orchid silk organza, designed with a tailored collar, puffed sleeves and a yoke ending in a point at the waistline with a small silk belt in the back. On her head was a wreath of orchid flowers and she carried white carnations and orchid chrysanthemums in a white basket.

The best man was John Gallagher, Harrisburg. Ushers were Patrick Coyle and Paul Molnar both of Harrisburg. Robert McNulty, Hanover, was the ring bearer.

RECEPTION HELD

A reception was held at the Loyal Order of the Moose, McSherrystown, for 250 guests. Following their one-week wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains, the couple will reside at 1727 N. Second St., Harrisburg.

The bride is a 1959 graduate of Delone Catholic High School and is employed by the Department of Health, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The groom is a 1953 graduate of Johnstown Central High School and spent three years in the United States Army, with one and one-half years in Germany, and is presently employed by the Department of Labor and Industry, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Out-of-town guests were from Harrisburg and Johnstown.

Ulysses (Tony) Lupien, former major league first baseman, has been coaching Dartmouth baseball since 1957. He is a Harvard graduate.

Billy Ache, a $2,500 yearling, was sold for $1,230,000 last year. He was in the money 29 straight times in his career.

Allies Beat Off Savage Red Counterdrives As They Drive Towards Foe's Big Defense Line. Allied troops fighting through driving rain toward the North Korea beat off savage Red counterattacks today.

Artillery thundered over the sound of hand grenades as United Nations forces threw back the thrusts. Reds attacked all threatening U. N. spearheads. They fought stubbornly everywhere against the crunching allied advance.

U. N. officers said the offensive appeared to be reaching the main Red defense line.

Largest Crowd In History Of

Gettysburg College Attends 119th Commencement Sunday: "Act on the belief that world affairs are your first and most vital interest, that peace is something that must be fought for 365 days a year and that it is your own personal concern which you cannot leave to others," Dr. Arthur Sweetser, director of the United Nations Washington Information Center, told approximately 2,000 gathered Sunday afternoon on the Memorial athletic field for the 119th annual commencement exercises of Gettysburg college. Two hundred and nine students, including 42 from this area, were in the graduating class. The program was held out-of-doors under brilliant sunlight while storms raged within a mile of the field. It was the largest attended commencement in the history of the college.

Bars Pinned On Cadets By

Wives, Sweethearts: More than 100 parents, wives and friends attended the commissioning of 25 AFROTC cadets as 2nd lieutenants in the United States Air Force Reserve at 9:15 o'clock Sunday morning, in front of Glafelter hall.

Second lieutenant bars were pinned on the newly commissioned men by wives, sweethearts and parents.

Thunderstorms Cause Damage

Here On Sunday: Severe thunderstorms that swept sections of Adams county Sunday afternoon and evening brought a 30-degree drop in temperatures, knocked hundreds of telephone and light lines out of service and drenched the countryside with the heaviest rainfall experienced here in months.

The storms came after the mercury had climbed to a new high for 1961 of 94 degrees Sunday afternoon. The peak exceeded the previous record of 92 degrees set on Saturday afternoon. Last night's low was 64.

Dr. C. M. Stine To Again Head College Board: Dr. Charles M. A. Stine, Wilmington, Del., an official of the Du Pont company, was re-elected president of the board of trustees of Gettysburg college at the annual meeting of the trustees held at the college Saturday.

Decisions to construct a field house at the college, purchase a lot at the corner of West Lincoln and College avenues, and reopen Aughinbaugh hall on Springs avenue for co-ed students were among the matters of business conducted by the trustees.

Miss Shafer To Wed Saturday To Keith E. Rex: Miss Margaret Elizabeth Shafer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling P. Shafer, Gardner R. 2, became the bride of Keith Eugene Rex, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram E. Rex, Gardner R. 2, in a double ring ceremony Saturday at 3 p.m. in Mt. Taber EUB Church.

Today's Talk

ON KEEPING CALM

There is neither fuss nor lost motion in the running of the universe. To the fraction of a second, the movements of the world, planets and stars go on. One huge part of the solar system must act with every other huge part.

The entire solar system is but a grand great lesson on keeping calm.

The real reason why some men grow great is because, early in life, they learned how to keep calm. "If you don't take back what you said in your lecture to-night," said a man to Henry Ward Beecher, back in the 1860's after the famed pulpit orator and lecturer had delivered a powerful address, "I will shoot your brains out." "Shoot away," replied Beecher. Of course, the man didn't shoot. Calmness won.

During exciting experiences when it seems as though your nerves would blow your head completely from your shoulders, try being calm. Just take command of the noisy nerves and tell them that you are going to run things for a while. Calmly MEAN it. You will be amazed at the way those jumpy nerves will quiet down. They will scamper "behind the couch" like a scared cat in the presence of a strange dog.

There is joy in calmness—and power and influence and great service too. Don't let anything or anybody stampede you. Hold your ground—if you don't, someone else will!

WINDS OF THE MORNING

Winds of the morning, whisper low,
Lingered you in the valley where
Sleeps my love of the Long Ago,
Under the pale green grasses there?Tell me, winds of the morning, sweet,
There you paused in your gentle way
Before you came to the city street,
To kiss the daisies that o'er her sway.There, from there, all your fragrance rare
You gathered, winds of the morning, say:
Whisper low that you come from there
To cheer the heart of me on today.Winds of the morning, so cool and sweet,
Laden with fragrance, I know I know,
You have come from that deep retreat
Where sleeps my love of the Long Ago.

NEW YORK (AP)—The mother of a preteen daughter of my acquaintance has a little problem: getting Suzy to wash her face. Suzy, it seems, watches the toilet soap commercials on TV and insists on following the demonstrations of beauty care faithfully. She first wraps her "hair-do" in a hand towel, and then proceeds carefully to dab each rounded cheek and the middle of her forehead with a small circle of suds.

She scorns the face cloth as old-fashioned—after all, all the TV face-dabbers use their hands. And Suzy is not convinced by her mother's explanation that the TV girls caress rather than scrub on screen because they don't want to mess up their carefully applied lip and eye make-up.

RENEW STEEL HOUR

CBS' bi-weekly Steel Hour has been renewed for another season. That's welcome news because it is one of the few dramatic shows to survive the ratings battle with westerns and private eyes.

But the joy isn't undiluted because the scripts are too often stodgy, stilted and garnished with clichés.

This week's offering, for example, was billed as a "rollicking comedy," and there were all the ingredients for a breezy, amusing period piece. But nothing rollicked—in fact, there wasn't a single laugh in the entire 60 minutes.

The play, adapted from a Stephen Vincent Benet short story, was called "Famous." It was about an aging playboy song writer who doesn't want his children to follow his footsteps in the theater. Eddy Albert played the father with a leaden touch. Even Dolores Gray, as a 1927 musical comedy queen, couldn't brighten her corner.

SULLIVAN SHOW

Ed Sullivan will present three scenes from "All the Way Home," the Broadway show which won playwright Tad Moser a Pulitzer Prize, on Sunday night. Sullivan is credited with saving the play when it was about to fold, with an enthusiastic plug on his program. Sports Programs of both CBS and ABC in mid-June will be devoted to French auto races: CBS' "Sports Spectacular" on June 15 will report on the 1961 Grand Prix de Monaco, the Riviera's big car racing event, and ABC's June 17 "Wide World of Sports" will show the famous 24-hour-long Le Mans circuit.

ALL KENNEDY CONTRIBUTIONS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—City Councilman Victor E. Moore says "every penny" he collected for the Citizens for Kennedy campaign has been turned over to a $3,000 contribution from a contractor under arrest on payola charges—went for campaign expenses.

Moore, making what he called a public accounting of funds he collected for the campaign, said he was puzzled and dismayed by the furor that has been kicked up over his acceptance of the donation by the contractor, Eli G. Travis. Travis' bankrupt firm held a contested repair contract for $344,000 on the city's elevated train system.

Previously Moore had said that he personally received the cash sum from Travis, whose bankrupt firm held city repair contracts.

TOUCHED OFF SCANDAL

Travis is accused of lavishing gifts and money on city employees which touched off a scandal resulting in the dismissal of five city employees. Two other city employees, who also were fired by Mayor Richardson Dilworth, and three other persons including Travis were named defendants in a criminal action charging conspiracy to defraud Philadelphia.

Moore, who at the time was co-chairman of the Philadelphia Citizens for Kennedy Committee, said his secretary gave Travis a receipt for the money. He said he turned over $5,072 to Alfred Blasband, vice president of the Bankers' Securities Corp., when the latter accepted the post of treasurer of the Kennedy Committee. He said the $5,000 was included.

Moore said that in a partial list of contributions for Blasband some names were omitted including Travis' because the contractor had made little impression on him.

OFFERED ACCOUNTING

Moore offered the following accounting: Receipts—Democratic City Committee $9,068, miscellaneous $3,400.64, cash $4,000, total $16,477.64. Expenditures—Rent $9,000, electricity $8, plumbing $60, telephone registration $100, banners $425, payroll $650, buttons and literature $562, miscellaneous $600, total $11,405. The $5,072 difference between receipts and expenditures was what was turned over to Alfred Blasband, when Blasband accepted the post of treasurer of the Kennedy Committee, Moore said. Meanwhile, Dilworth went before City Council and said he was partly to blame for the payola scandal that shook his six-year-old Democratic administration.

HAD NEGLECTED JOB

He said he had become so immersed in rebuilding Philadelphia that he had neglected what he termed "the day-to-day operation" of the city's government.

In a special report the mayor also laid part of the blame to private enterprise and on some employees "only too willing to be corrupted."

The mayor pledged with council's help to give the city "the best, most imaginative government in any city in the world today."

Littlestown

LITTLESTOWN—The chairman of the soliciting committees for the Littlestown Community Center financial drive will meet for a briefing session at 8 p.m. Monday at the community building, E. King St., with Beaven F. Hanlon, of the finance committee. The house-to-house solicitation will take place on June 12.

The Sunday School officers and teachers of Reeder's United Church of Christ will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the church social hall.

The June meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of Grace Lutheran Church, Two Taverns, will be held in the parish hall Monday at 8 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll J. Storm and children, Joan, William and James, left Friday for their home in Phoenix, Ariz., after spending the past week with relatives and friends in and near town. The Storms are former residents of the community. They came east to attend the Littlestown High School commencement Wednesday night when their daughter, Bonnie, was graduated.

The annual Daily Vacation Bible School will open Monday morning at 8:45 a.m. at the Rolling Acres Elementary School and continue each weekday morning through June 16. The school is being sponsored by the Littlestown Ministerium and children four years of age through Grade Six are invited to attend.

Rev. William R. Jones, pastor of Centenary Methodist Church, is superintendent of the school. The teachers will be: Grade Six, Rev. John C. Chatlos; Grade Five, Rev. G. Howard Koons; Grade Four, Mrs. John C. Chatlos; Grade Three, Rev. William C. Kams; Grade Two, Rev. Glenn Flinchbaugh; Grade One, Rev. George Shultz Jr.; preschool, Mrs. Robert H. Miller; kindergarten, Mrs. Helen Gregg; nursery, Mrs. Luther W. Ritter; pianist, Miss Donna Rabenstein. Each teacher will select her staff assistants. Devotions will be conducted daily.

Dismiss Petition

Against Lawyer

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—

Judge Warren K. Hess of Montgomery County Court has dismissed a petition asking that Julian W. Barnard be jailed for hitting a man with his car and killing him.

Barnard, 64, a former Norris-town city solicitor, was fined $500, placed on probation for two years and banned from driving during that period for manslaughter.

The next day, however, he was seen driving to work.

Mrs. Robert Lee Stansberry, widow of the man killed by Barnard's car, then circulated the petition asking for a jail sentence.

Judge Hess said he did not know whether Barnard had turned in his license when he was seen driving.

"Since no additional facts were presented," he said, "the petition by Mrs. Stansberry is dismissed."

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A woman is the first person sentenced as a result of the investigation into fraudulent voting practices in Philadelphia. The frauds came to light in February 1960.

Beatrice Singleton, 33, a mother of three who is separated from her husband, was fined $250 plus $50 costs Friday by Judge Charles L. Geurin of Quarter Sessions Court.

Miss Singleton, a precinct worker, also lost her right to vote for four years. A jury had convicted her of forgery concerning a voting certificate and of forging a signature or a nominating petition for a committeeman. She drew a suspended sentence on the latter count.

Ten persons have been tried so far on vote fraud charges. Six have been convicted and the rest acquitted.

Taneytown

MRS. FLORA LEISTER

TANEYTOWN — The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Taneytown Volunteer Fire Company met Thursday evening in the social room of the fire hall with President Pauline Vaughn, presiding. Twenty-three members were present. Reports of sunshine and community sale committee were given. Ethel Garber reported $90.13.

A picnic will be held at the regular meeting night in August in the form of a pot luck supper at the carnival grounds building. The auxiliary will be represented in the parade on a float Wednesday evening in the parade.

Entertainment for the evening was due Mr. and Mrs. David Reinsnyder and Misses Faye and Phyllis Clingan accompanied by Mrs. Hubert G. Null, and a pantomime by Francis Reese of York.

If you keep a box of wooden toothpicks on hand you can use them for testing cake and bar cookies. When the cake or pan of cookies is done, the food pick inserted in the center should come out clean.

CLOSE HEARING
ON JOHANSSON
TITLE MATCHES

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators closed the book today, at least tentatively, on Gene Tunney's swiftly disputed testimony that boxer Ingemar Johansson was "a sick man" and a victim of monopolists in the "rubber" bout he lost this year to heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

Tunney, a former heavyweight champion, exploded his charge at hearings before the Senate Anti-trust and Monopoly subcommittee and racketeers.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., chairman of the subcommittee and author of the bill seeking federal regulation, announced he planned no further hearings except, perhaps, to receive testimony from Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

BITTER INDICTMENT

Tunney was in the midst of a bitter indictment of racketeers in boxing, and what he termed monopolistic practices by fight promoters and managers, when he charged that Johansson was suffering from a brain trauma in his third fight with Patterson in March.

Tunney contended the Swede suffered a brain trauma when he was flattened by Patterson in their second meeting.

Tunney said an electro-encephalogram (brain x-ray) would have shown Johansson was a sick man and should not have entered the ring for the third bout, but "the monopoly would not allow" such an examination. He didn't identify "the monopoly."

ALLEGATIONS 'RIDICULOUS'

From Sweden, Johansson's personal physician, Dr. Francis Benson, called Tunney's allegations "ridiculous."

"I was personally in charge of the physical and mental examinations before the match and I can guarantee that Ingo was in perfect physical and mental condition," Benson said.

In New York, Al Bolan, who was general manager of Feature Sports, Inc., which promoted the bout in Miami Beach, Fla., said Johansson had a complete examination by physicians employed by the Miami Beach Boxing Commission before the bout.

YANKEES HOLD
6-STROKE LEAD
IN CANADA CUP

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer DORADO BEACH, Puerto Rico. (AP) — Old golf pros don't die or fade away. They simply keep on beating their younger rivals.

If you have any doubt about that, just take a look at the score-board in the ninth annual Canada Cup matches where Sam Snead, 49 last week, and Jimmy Demaret, who was 51 a few days earlier, have combined to put the defending champion United States six strokes ahead of the best of the other 32 teams in the international field.

Snead, has put together two consecutive 67s, also leads the individual race by four strokes over Ben Arda of the Philippines, with 134 to Arda's 138.

AUSTRALIA SECOND

Snead has stomped through the heat and humidity of the first two days of the matches with a pair of rounds that has the United States holding a six-stroke cushion over Australia in the team title race, 277 to 283. The Philippines is third at 288.

Of course, Demaret fits into the same category. Called off a Gulf of Mexico fishing trip to replace Arnold Palmer, U.S. open champion sidelined by PGA regulations, Jimmy has fired a 77-70 for a fifth place tie at 143 with Kel Nagle of Australia.

HERSHEY — Hershey Country Club announces the 43rd annual Pennsylvania Open Golf Tournament will be played this year at the Hershey Park Golf Course, and the long country club layout on June 26.

The field will play 18 holes at each of the courses June 26, with defending champion John Guenther on hand to defend his title. Guenther was the first amateur ever to win the event.

Guenther won the title last year in a three-way playoff against pro Bob Schoener and amateur Bob Baidort, after the three had tied with low scores of 143. Guenther shot a one under par 72 in the playoff, with Baidort scoring 76, and Schoener a 79.

Among the top pros to play again this year, will be Jay Weitzel and Henry Williams, who again this year have qualified for the National Open. Skee Riegel, of Radnor Valley, a two-time winner, will again be on hand, as will many of the area golf pros.

Snead is followed by Arda, who fired his second straight 69 despite a second haunting cable from his family that his wife was seriously ill in Manila with a heart condition. Third place is held by the lanky Al Balding of Canada at 139 with Peter Thomson of Australia, four-time British Open champ, fourth at 140 just ahead of Nagle and Demaret.

ORTEGA GETS FIRST SHOT AT WORLD TITLE

By BOB MYERS

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mexico's Gaspar Ortega, a veteran of eight years as a pro and 82 prize fights, gets his first shot at a world title tonight when he meets welter-weight champion Emile Griffith of New York.

They tangle over the 15-round bout at the Olympic Auditorium, with a national television audience sitting in. Fight time is 9 p.m., Eastern Standard Time. The TV network is ABC, with southern California marked out.

Griffith, 22, a native of the Virgin Islands, figures to enter the ring a 2-1 favorite to retain the championship. It will be his first defense of the crown he won April 1 by flattening Benny Kid Paret of Cuba in 13 rounds in Miami Beach, Fla.

EXPECT 7,500

Co-promoters Cal Eaton and George Parnassus expect some 7,500 fans to pay about $50,000. They will need this and more to come out ahead. The TV rights brought $60,000. But Griffith gets a guarantee of $50,000 and Ortega gets 20 per cent of the gate and TV money.

The Olympic also guaranteed Paret $10,000 and each fighter donates $5,000 to the ex-champion, all for waiving an immediate return match contract he had with Griffith.

Griffith captured the title in his 25th fight. He has lost but two decisions, one last year to Denny Moyer in Portland, Ore.

Griffith, who designs ladies hats as an off-ring occupation, has never been knocked out. Once, in a preliminary, was he floored but knocked this man out in the next round.

"Mac" McCann's American Legion team moved into a tie for second place by topping the Elks 5-2 Friday evening.

The Legion got off to a 2-0 lead in the opening inning when Knox homered over the left field fence with a mate aboard.

Two more runs came in the third, Kennel walked after which Knox and Longenecker doubled. The other Legion run was via Longenecker's homerun drive over the left field fence in the fifth.

In the top of the fourth the Elks tallied their first run. With one out, Teeter and Sease hit safely to right and the former scored with the help of an error. Their second run in the fifth resulted on a single by Newman, an out, and Fissel's double to left.

The loss dropped the Hise brothers' outfit into fourth place.

TIGERS HOLD
TWO RUN LEAD
BY SHUTOUT

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Tigers retained their two-game lead in the American League with a 2-0 victory over Minnesota Friday night on the four-hit pitching of Jim Bunning and home runs by Rocky Colavito and Al Kaline. Second place Cleveland defeated the Los Angeles Angels 6-4 and third place New York rapped the Chicago White Sox 6-2.

Boston spilled Baltimore 4-2 and Washington walloped Kansas City 12-4.

BUNNING FANS SIX

Bunning allowed nothing but singles, two by Zoilo Versalles, and struck out six. He didn't run into trouble until the ninth, when the Twins loaded the bases with one out on Bunning's lone walk, a hit and an error. Bunning then ended it by getting Dan Dobbek to hit into a double play.

Colavito's homer, his 13th, beat southpaw Jack Kralick (4-3) in the second inning. Kaline's sixth-inning solo was his fourth—all in four consecutive games against the Twins, who now have lost 11 of 12 and six in a row while plunging from a second place tie to eighth.

Johnny Romano cracked a 4-4 tie for the Indians with a two-run homer in the eighth off Johnny James (0-1). Woody Held also homered for the Indians, who blew a 4-0 lead. Frank Funk (7-3) was the winner.

WIN ON HOMERS

The Yankees also relied on home runs, with Yogi Berra belting a pair of solo shots and Roger Maris crashing a two-run homer as southpaw Whitey Ford (7-2) beat the White Sox. Ford blanked the last place Sox on five hits after Al Smith hit a two-run homer in the first inning. Cap McIlish (2-6) was the loser, dropping his fifth in a row when Maris' 13th homer broke a 2-2 tie in the third.

Vic Wertz and right-hander Don Schwall combined to beat the Orioles with Wertz' two-run homer in the ninth. Billy Hoelt (1-1) was the loser for the Birds, who had tied it with a ninth-inning run on a triple by Ron Hansen and a two-out single by Whitey Herzog. Schwall allowed seven hits and walked four, but he struck out five.

Right-hander Dick Donovan, after losing five in a row by one run, won his first with sudden support from the Senators. Their dozen runs off loser Bud Daley (4-6) and three relievers was one more than they scored in Donovan's five defeats. Dale Long drove in five runs, three with a homer.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Williamsport Grays handed Paul Doyle his first defeat in six games as they upset the Springfield giants, the Eastern League leaders, 12-2.

Doyle was routed in the second inning Friday night when the Grays, in fifth place, scored five times. Danny Cater brought in three of the runs with a homer. Doyle was sent to the bench in the second, but Williamsport continued the rout against three Springfield relief pitchers up to the eighth inning, when Tim Johnston hit a two-run homer, his seventh of the season. The Grays collected 14 hits against the Giants' six.

The winner for the Grays was Bob Baillargeon, who spaced six hits, walked three and struck out two. His record now stands at 1-1. In other Eastern League games, second-place Binghamton defeated Lancaster 2-1, and Johnstown beat Reading 6-4.

Binghamton's Dick Dumas and Bill Wakefield of the Lancaster Roses kept the game scoreless until Al Hall, the Triplets' catcher, hit a homer with two out in the fifth.

The Roses threatened to tie the score the next inning when Clem Moore hit a triple and came home on a sacrifice fly. Then Hall homered again in the eighth.

The Roses threatened to tie the game a second time after getting another man to third. But Dumas held them with two strike-outs.

The Johnstown-Reading game was tied three times and ran into the 10th inning, when Joe Candiso smashed a two-run double off Jose Lopez. The winner was Bob Tedesco, who has a 3-0 record.

Rotational Grazing Best For Pasture Management

By FRANK S. ZETTLER
Adams County Farm Agent

A good program of rotational grazing is still probably the best system of pasture management for most Pennsylvania dairymen but newer more extensive systems of grazing may pay off under some conditions. Based on studies recently completed in Minnesota and Michigan, here's what can be expected from three of the more intensive grazing systems:

FRANK S. ZETTLER

Daily ration grazing, which placed the herd on a small area of fresh pasture each day, may increase carrying capacity by 15 to 20 per cent compared to conventional rotational grazing. With this system, it is possible for one high-producing dairy cow to get all the summer feed she needs from just a half acre of top-notch forage.

A PRACTICAL SYSTEM

Storage feeding, or feeding hay and silage all summer rather than pasturing, can increase carrying capacity per acre by 20 to 35 per cent. Green-chopping or "zero-grazing" increase carrying capacity from 25 to 35 per cent in these studies. All of these systems involve more labor and other costs than rotational grazing. Generally when land is not limited, as is true in much of the county a good system of rotational grazing is most practical. But where there is not enough acreage of good quality pasture, or where it is inconvenient to set up a rotational system of grazing, one of these more intensive systems may have real promise.

Regardless of the system used, most efficient production will be obtained from tall growing species such as alfalfa, ladino clover, birdsfoot trefoil, orchardgrass and bromegrass, and when the fields are properly limed and fertilized.

GOOD PASTURE SAVE FEED

Poultry raisers who make the best use of good range in spring and summer will reduce feed costs. A good range will supply green, tender, succulent, palatable and nutritious forage throughout the growing season. Young clover and grass are a good source of vitamin A and riboflavin. In addition, they supply protein, calcium and phosphorus. Chickens at least eight weeks of age on a good range can be given a mash mixture without the special ingredients that supply vitamin A and riboflavin. Vitamin D requirements can be supplied by sunshine when chickens are out of doors from April 1 to October 1.

The top two inches of grass and clover as it comes through the ground has a protein value equal to or higher than the best growing mash. Tall grass has a low protein value. In addition, tall grass is not so palatable to the chickens as the tender growth that follows mowing. Chickens do not range well in overgrown grass. It is necessary to keep the chick range short to be of most value from the feed standpoint. This also allows even ranging which helps distribute the range droppings. Poultry raisers in Adams County who have utilized good ranges to the best advantage report that pullets eat less purchased feed than when on bare ground or kept confined.

HOGS ON CONCRETE FLOORS

Confinement feeding of market hogs on concrete floors is on the increase. But the hog producer must consider many details before he can say whether the system is for him. The operation must be large enough to justify the original cost of equipment and keep the cost per pig low. Some authorities say it takes an operation of 250 pigs or more per year to take full advantage of the efficiencies of feeding on concrete.

Naturally, the prime reason for interest in confinement rearing of hogs is an attempt to make more money, but there are many other reasons why interest has focused on this type of husbandry.

LAND, LABOR COSTS

A list of these would include the high cost of land and labor, automation, multiple farrowing, parasite and disease problems even on pasture, improved swine nutrition, early weaning, meat-type hog programs, uncertainty of good pasture, fence building and environmental factors. By concentrating the number of hogs in a comparatively small area, and with modern feeding, watering and sanitation systems, labor needs can be reduced.

However, to realize the maximum return from this system, the farmer must have better than average know-how in the feeding of hogs and must pay strict attention to sanitation practices. Good pasture will cover up a lot of mistakes in a feeding program. On concrete, rations must be complete and supplemented with vitamins, antibiotics, minerals and trace minerals.

Diseases and parasites can be controlled on concrete, but it takes better feeding and management than the average grower is doing today. A serious disease outbreak among hogs concentrated in a small area could prove disastrous.

EAST BERLIN — The Bermudian Band Parents Organization met Wednesday evening to take action on the ways and means committee fund-raising suggestions. It was decided to sponsor a public ham supply July 8 in the Bermudian High School cafeteria. Serving will be from 4 to 8 o'clock and the price will be adults $1.25, children 65 cents. Music will be furnished by the band. The proceeds will be used to purchase new summer band uniforms.

Thursday, June 15, a special meeting will be held to make final plans for the supper. All parents are urged to attend.

Miss Nadine Hoak, who is employed by the Oriental Missionary Society, Los Angeles, Calif., is spending a two-week vacation with her mother, Mrs. Fianina Hoak, and her sister, Geneva Hoak, Bermudian. She will be guest speaker at the Bermudian Bible Church Saturday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

Landlords Change Plea To Innocence

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two landlords who pleaded guilty to charges of involuntary manslaughter in the deaths of five persons in an apartment house fire have changed their pleas to innocent. Judge Victor H. Blanc of Common Pleas Court allowed Israel Yollin, 65, and Abe Goldberg, 60, to change their pleas Friday when they appeared for sentencing. Their lawyer, Samuel Moonblatt, said the change was based on a State Supreme Court decision May 2 that proximate cause can no longer be considered the basis of a guilty verdict in an involuntary manslaughter case.

GIRL SCOUTERS

ger, the Adams County Council must have 110 of its adult leaders present for Tuesday's meeting. Approval by a majority of the 110 will effect the merger. If 110 are not present or represented by proxy, then meetings must be held until 110 are secured. The attorney's letter also said that any leader may send her proxy in the form of a written note to another leader who will be present, authorizing that leader to represent her in the voting.

Full information on the proposed merger is available at the Girl Scout office in the First National Bank building, Lincoln Square. After the merged council is established the Adams County office here will be closed and the only office will be in York.

Under the proposed setup the 1,295 girls and 350 adult leaders in the Adams County Council will be joined with the 861 girls and 210 leaders of Hanover council in a Hanover-Gettysburg District. Mrs. Edward J. Abendschein, of Hanover, has been publicly announced as the chairman for the district, by other newspapers, although it was said here that a district chairman has not yet been elected.

OPERATED BY BOARD

The job of Mrs. M. Hardy Nichols, who for the last decade has been paid assistant in charge of the Adams County Girl Scouts, will disappear. Instead paid "professional" leaders out of the York office will be named. There will be one of the professional "district advisors" for each two districts. Hanover-Gettysburg District will share the services of one of the "advisors" with one of the other new districts.

District chairmen will make up the council board which will operate the new Penn-Laurel Council.

Each neighborhood will become autonomous under the new plan.

EMMITTSBURG — Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 72 met Monday evening with leaders Mrs. Ralph Ohler and Mrs. Charles Shorb. Barbara Fitzgerald, Margaret Masser, Joyce Sanders and Mildred Harner opened the meeting with the flag ceremony. Overnight camping for Intermediates was discussed and registration papers were handed out. Further plans for the court of awards

Each neighborhood will be entitled to two delegates to the Penn-Laurel Council which will meet twice a year, in April and October.

Local Girl Scout officials explained that under the new set up each neighborhood chairman will have "in her own neighborhood just about the same job as the Adams County Council president now has."

GET ALL ASSETS

Under the merger plan all of the assets of the Adams County Girl Scout Council, money in the bank, Camp Happy Valley, etc., will become the property of the merged district. At present the camping committee set up by the Adams County Council will continue operation of Camp Happy Valley. The future determination of how that camping committee is to be constituted has not as yet been spelled out.

Operation under the new plan will be $134.21 cheaper for the county, according to the present budgets. The Adams County Council has set up a budget of $6,820.31 for this year. The proposed Penn-Laurel budget calls for the Adams County area to pay $6,686.10. When the Adams County Council was formed in 1946 there were 19 Girl Scout units in the county with 400 members. The first day camps were held by the council in 1948 and the office was opened in 1949.

Six years ago when the Adams County Girl Scout Council purchased the farm that became Camp Happy Valley near Fairfield it incorporated as a non-profit corporation. This year the council paid off the last of the debt on the camp.

night, June 20, and the food sale June 24 were made. Each girl working on her second class rank planted a flower and made a novel planter out of a cup and saucer. She will care for the plant for two weeks and these planters will be held at the food sale. The meeting closed with the friendship circle.

As a result of a Civil Service examination taken recently, three members of the Senior class of St. Joseph's High School have been offered positions at the Department of Labor in Washington, D. C.

Frances Ann Ott, Irishtown Rd., and Alice Sherwin, Federal Ave., achieved a grade GS-4 in their examinations. Usually this can be earned only after one year of stenographic experience or, in the absence of this, by a higher than average score. Both girls merited this by their outstanding performance on the tests and are, therefore, qualified for secretarial employment. Another classmate, Joyce Knott, of Thurmont, received a rating of GS-3, which entitles her to a clerical-stenographic position.

All three students plan to accept the appointments after graduation. Miss Knott and Miss Sherwin will reside with the latter's sister, Martha Jane, in Alexandria, Va., while Miss Ott is going to live in Washington at The Evangeline, a residence for young business women.

Other seniors who took and passed the clerk-typist examination are Viola Matthews and Nancy Wetzel of Thurmont and Carol Wenschhof of Fairfield.

Junior membership in the typing society of OAT has been earned by 11 students in the Typewriting I class at St. Joseph's High School. This is achieved by typing perfect copies of contest material supplied by the Gregg Awards Department. Those who have received pins for their efforts are: Catherine Althoff, Mary E. Barbe, Rebecca Haley, Jean Marie Herring, Betty Little, Loreta Long, Doris Michael, Rebecca Sanders, Dianna Topper, Mary Theresa Weedon and Genevieve Wivell. Other awards announced by the business department are bookkeeping, senior accomplishment, Charles Hubbard, Joyce Knott and Nancy Wetzel; shorthand, 80 words a minute, Joyce Knott, Viola Matthews, Alice Sherwin, Carol Wenschhof and Nancy Wetzel; 60 words a minute, Betty Little, Charles Hubbard, Mary Ann Myers, Barry Rees and Genevieve Wivell; transcription, 80 words a minute, Viola Matthews, Mary Ann Myers and Carol Wenschhof. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cool and family are moving from W. Main St. to the property of Mrs. Marie Saffer on De Paul St.

15 Religious Orders Will Receive Plaques For Service To Nation During Civil War

Sister Isabel, D.C., provincial superior, Daughters of Charity, Emmitsburg, will be among 15 mothers general, superiors and provincial superiors who will receive plaques commemorating the work their religious orders did for the nation during the Civil War at a dinner for religious to be given June 14 at 5:30 p.m. in Cobo Hall, Detroit, Mich., during the annual convention of the Catholic Hospital Association of the U. S. and Canada.

The Sisters are: Mother M. Omer, mother general, Sisters of Charity of Cincinnati, Mt. St. Joseph, Ohio; Mother Loretto Bernard, Sisters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, New York; Mother Lucille, superior general, Sisters of Charity of Nazareth, Nazareth, Ky.; Mother M. Julia, mother general, Sisters of St. Dominic, St. Catharine, Ky.; Mother M. Rosaria, superior general, Sisters of St. Joseph of Wheeling, Wheeling, W. Va.; Mother Joan of Arc, provincial prioress, Ursuline Nuns, Kirkwood, Mo.; Mother Kathryn Marie, superior general, Sisters of the Holy Cross, Notre Dame, Ind.

OTHER ORDERS
Mother Divine Shepherd, superior general, Sisters of St. Joseph, Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia; Mother Margaret Mary, superior, Sisters of Mercy, Pittsburgh; Mother M. Charles, Sisters of Charity of Our Lady of Mercy, Charleston, S. C.; Mother M. Marcella, Sisters of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, New Orleans, La.; Mother Mary Angela, mother general, Sisters of Divine Providence, St. Mary of the Woods, Ind.; Mother M. Regina, mother general, Sisters of Mercy of the Union, Washington, D.C.; and Mother M. Helen, provincial superior, Sisters of the Poor of St. Francis, Cincinnati, Ohio.

The Sisters represent orders which have been recognized by the U. S. government for their work in caring for the sick and wounded from the North and South in hospitals, hospital ships and on the battlefields. A monument in their memory "The Nuns of the Battlefield" is in Washington, D. C., after having been presented as the Nuns Monument Resolution, No. 154 and debated and passed by the House of Representatives on March 18, 1918.

MORE THAN 2,000

More than 2,000 American women served as nurses in the Civil War—more than one-third were members of Catholic sisterhoods. Their names are on file in the archives of the War Department.

When the Civil War started there was no organized nurse corps. The first class of trained nurses did not graduate until 1872. However, the Catholic sisterhoods had had experience in nursing care. Sisters of Mercy of Cincinnati were led by Mother Teresa Maher, a student of Mother Francis Bridgman who had served in the Crimean War and had taught her sisters proper hospital methods for care of the sick and wounded. Sisters of St. Ursula had transformed their monasteries into military hospitals during the siege of New Orleans in 1815. Daughters of Charity had seen duty on foreign battlefields. Some had hospitals of their own prior to the outbreak of the war.

Sisters of Charity of Cincinnati operated St. John's Hospital and had a corps of medical and surgical nurses, trained dietitians, women well-versed in handling the mentally ill and some so-called

Littlestown GIVE AWARDS TO 2 STUDENTS

LITTLESTOWN — The Danforth Foundation Awards presented annually in recognition of qualities of leadership to a boy and girl of the graduating class of Littlestown High School, has been received by Lawrence E. Snyder and Miss Sandra L. Hawk. The presentation was made at the closing session of school Friday afternoon by Frank E. Basehoar, high school principal. The two students were recommended for the awards by the high school faculty. Each received a copy of William H. Danforth's book, "I Dare You?" and a certificate. Snyder, an honor student, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Snyder, Prince St. Miss Hawk, salutatorian, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Hawk, Prince St.

Slides of the May horse show of the Carroll Adams Riding Club, Inc., were shown at the June meeting Thursday evening in the clubhouse, Sunset Hill Farm.

"immunes" for work in contagious wards.

"CITY OF TENTS"

Sisters of St. Joseph of Philadelphia sent nurses from St. Joseph's Hospital to Camp Curtin. Sisters of St. Joseph of Wheeling turned their hospital over to use as a military hospital. Sisters of Mercy in Pittsburgh, well-trained in their own Mercy Hospital, were sent to Stanton Hospital in Washington and served in the "City of Tents" in Pittsburgh — canvas emergency hospitals which dotted the hillsides.

Mercy Hospital, Chicago, operated by the Sisters of Mercy, sent a group to Jefferson City, Md., and on hospital ships to Shiloh. Sisters of Mercy of Baltimore turned the Washington infirmary over to the military and later went to serve at Douglas Hospital, Washington.

CHOLERA PLAGUES

Some of the Sisters had served during cholera plagues, like the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth in 1832, the Sisters of the Holy Cross, Notre Dame, Ind., and the Sisters of Mercy, Chicago, in 1854. During the war, these sisters went to Paducah and Louisville, Ky., and to Mount City, Ill., and other military hospitals in the North and South.

Sisters of the Poor of St. Francis had served the sick in hospitals and in their homes in Europe. They had specialized in medical and surgical cases. Their foundress, Mother Francis Schervier, godchild of Francis II, Emperor of Austria, made the trip across the Atlantic to Cincinnati to arrive five days before the battle of Gettysburg. She brought four nuns specially trained in surgical cases with her.

Other orders had schools and orphanages, but all were trained to help the sick and the wounded.

Accuse Father Of Killing Daughter

HARRISBURG (AP)—Kathy Larnear, 14, died in Harrisburg Hospital Friday night of head injuries police said were inflicted upon her by her father.

The father, Norman Larnear, 39, of Harrisburg's Hill section was reportedly in satisfactory condition at the hospital suffering from a knife wound police said he got when he apparently tried to commit suicide.

They said he telephoned his wife at work Wednesday night to tell her he had killed his daughter, then stabbed himself in the chest.

According to police, Larnear, a World War II veteran, was discharged from the Lebanon Veterans Hospital where he underwent four months' treatment for a mental disorder.

He was charged with murder.

Three Sentenced In Murder Plot

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mrs. Harriet Miller, 40, who hired two men to kill her estranged husband, was placed on four years probation Friday and fined $500.

Judge Maurice W. Sporkin also imposed the same sentence on Miss Lottie J. Williams, 43, friend of one of the would-be killers, John Henry Brooks. Brooks, 32, was fined $1,500 and put on four years probation.

All three had pleaded guilty to charges of plotting the slaying of Samuel Miller, 43, in 1959. The second man involved was held for a while as a material witness and then released.

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Thomas Wasylowsky, 7, of Lower Burrell City, died in Citizens General Hospital here Friday night about an hour after being injured by a car. Police said he ran into the side of a moving auto near his home.

DUBOIS, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania's secretary of the year will be named tonight by the state division of the National Secretaries Association.

The group opened a three-day meeting here Friday. Also on the agenda tonight is the election of new officers.

near town, by A. Smith. President Irvin DeGroot presided. Ivan E. Arentz, Thomas L. Cookson Jr. and Wilmer Barnes are in charge of arrangements for a two-day trail ride to be held by the club in the early future. The date for the family picnic will be selected by the committee comprising Cookson and Barnes. Refreshments were served by Thomas Cookson and Clyde W. Crouse. The club will meet again on Thursday, July 6.

Mrs. Kenneth Thomas, the former Miss Jane Barton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilbur Barton, 341 Lumber St., will receive the Bachelor of Arts degree from Lycoming College, Williamsport, Sunday. Thomas' activities while in college included membership in various Student Union Board committees and participation in the Associated Women Students. She is a 1957 graduate of Littlestown High School.

Peter Guerrini is the smallest man on Dartmouth's freshman heavyweight crew. He's 5-foot-8, weighs 135 pounds and comes from Caracas, Venezuela.

BLAZE CAUSES MUCH DAMAGE IN FRANKLIN

FRANKLIN, Pa. (AP)—Loss estimates ran into millions of dollars today following a fire that leveled Joy Manufacturing Co.'s No. 3 plant here.

The Friday night fire, worst in the city's history, raged through plant buildings connected to each other in an L-shape that covered a city block.

A Joy spokesman said he couldn't give a very close estimate of the loss. He said it would be at least $2 million but might be $4 million or more. Valuable machinery and surplus materials were destroyed by the flames.

Firemen said the blaze started in a heat-treat furnace, but the cause was not immediately FLAME SPREAD QUICKLY

The flames quickly spread throughout the line of frame buildings and also destroyed an office building and a nearby gasoline service station.

Heat was so intense it cracked windows and melted signs on business places across the street.

Smoke could be seen in Oil City, nine miles away.

Nobody was reported hurt. Firemen from nine companies in other communities joined Franklin firemen at the scene.

The plant, which had about 100 employees, performed precision type work. One of its products was cutters for the coal mining machinery produced by Joy.

The plant was one of three Joy facilities here.

The Pittsburgh Pirates opened the 1961 season without one in a heat-treat furnace, but the

THEIR FAVORITE STORIES:

Barry Sullivan, "Tall Man" on NBS-TV, tells of the magician who tried to get on television.

"I've got a super new trick that will panic them," he told the producer of a variety show. "I saw a woman in half."

"That's not new," scoffed the producer, "Magicians have been doing that for years."

"Oh yeah," countered the magician—"Lengthwise?"

MITCH MILLER, whose "Sing Along With Mitch" series will be seen on NBC-TV Thursday nights in the fall, has been appointed chairman of the 1961-1962 University of Rochester Alumni Fund Campaign. Miller, a native of Rochester, was graduated from the Eastman School of Music in 1932 and went on to achieve a distinguished reputation as a classical recording and concert stage oboist.

QUOTE FROM BESS MYERSON, panelist on "I've Got A Secret": "I'm as lazy as a vegetable and I don't care about money. Except to be able to do the things that I really want to do, like traveling. Taking my daughter to Europe and things like that are really the only reason I work as hard as I do."

PEGGIE CASTLE of "Lawman" says that when a Southern girl calls a fellow "honey" it may mean that she likes him or that she hasn't bothered to remember his name.

JOHNNY MATHIS SHOUTS PRAISES OF SOUTH AMERICAN CROONER:

Johnny Mathis, a top crooner himself, is shouting the praises of a South American recording star whose name is virtually unknown at this time in the U. S. According to Mathis, a singer named Lucho Gatica is destined to become a prime international favorite. "He has a wonderful style. I spent a great deal of time listening to and enjoying his records. I look forward to meeting him for the first time when I visit South America this summer."

AND STILL ANOTHER MILESTONE FOR MEL:

A nimble statistician, that ubiquitous expert on figures, estimates that Sportscaster Mel Allen notched his 10,000th hour as a sportscaster by the end of May. Included in the skein are more than 3,200 New York Yankee and New York Giant baseball games, more than 300 football games, 18 World Series, 22 All Star baseball games and 12 Rose Bowl football games.

VACATION TIME FOR JULIA MEADE:

Julia Meade's on vacation this week, but will appear on the Ed Sullivan show via tape. She, her husband and their baby are on a cruise. Julia wanted to get a good rest before starting out singing and dancing tour, June 5.

TV-RADIO DAILY: Don Federson has signed Richard Whorf to direct next season's "My Three Sons" series . . . Dr. Frank C. Baxter is planning a new half-hour TV series, for fall release, "The World Book," aimed at school age youngsters . . . Rise Stevens plans three TV appearances next fall . . . The diva claims her box office for concerts has been perceptibly improved as a result of television exposure.

TV NEWS NOTES

A major reason for the trip to Israel made by Bess Myerson, panelist on "I've Got A Secret" recently was to cover certain phases of the Eichmann trial for a national magazine. Bess took her 13-year-old daughter, Barbara, along for company. Now that she's back, Bess and her sister are busy with a summer camp for children which they started in upstate New York.

Major League Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Hitting — Tommy Davis, Dodgers, broke up 2-2 tie with grand slam home run in 10th inning for 6-2 victory over Giants that put Dodgers in virtual first place tie.
Pitching — Jim Bunning, Tigers, blanked Twins on four singles, walked just one and struck out six for 2-0 decision.

Joan Taylor: Home And Family First

WILLIAM S. Hart would spin in his grave if he knew, but a brand new day is dawning in the old west. Television, the great modifier, has created togetherness on the frontier . . . and with it, a whole new breed of TV men and women.

No longer does the western hero spring from his saddle and enter the cabin with his guns blazing. These days he ties up carefully and walks through the door saying, "What's for chow, dear?"

In short—the man in the gray flannel chaps. And his woman . . . ?

Well, she's likely to be a lot in this town who talk blithely about blending a career with home and children, and then desert husband and kids for weeks at a time to shoot on location or go on a publicity tour."

That's why Joan finds her role on "The Rifleman" such a pleasant assignment. Her appearances are spaced four to six weeks apart. Even when she is written into a script the shooting schedule usually allows her to get home in time for supper.

CLOSING UP STORE

"And talk about a show influencing a family, we're practically a suburb of North Fork at our house," she says gaily. "Whenever far off balance by his father re-marrying.

"After all, he's been raised right. Like I hope I've raised my own kids. Parents everywhere could take a lesson from the show's producers and writers. They've created an example of the kind of upbringing that, unfortunately, seems to have disappeared from America along with the frontier."

Joan's candor and maturity are rare and refreshing items in cautious Hollywood. She's a solid, settled person who lines out her convictions with an ironclad logic. And yet, strangely enough, she received the same glamorous, like Joan Taylor, a pert, level-headed beauty who is currently enjoying a long, public courtship with Chuck Connors on ABC-TV's Tuesday evening offering, "The Rifleman."

Joan Taylor and Paul Fix in the General Store in North Fork in "The Rifleman."

LOOKING FOR WIFE

The show's producers make no secret that Connors, as widower Lucas McCain, has strictly honorable intentions where Joan is concerned. He's looking for a wife, and a mother for his young son, Mark. And strictly off her track record in real life, Joan fits the bill to a well-rounded tee.

Married since her teens to producer-writer Leonard Freeman, Joan has three girls — and some tough minded ideas about family and career.

"I'd rather pass up ten Academy Awards than miss being around while my kids grow up," she says.

"Sure, I've lost some valuable roles. You always do when you can't go out on location for extended periods of time. It's probably hurt my acting career. But I don't care."

READY WHEN NEEDED

Why doesn't Joan, like many another acting mother, hire a permanent domestic staff to care for home and family while she follows the cameras?

"It's just that I want to be there when my kids need me," explains Miss Taylor. "Maybe it's old-fashioned of me but I don't want my children to get their love—or their discipline—from a stranger."

"I don't understand the women

I'm late getting home from the set, my husband explains to the kids that mommy's 'closing up the general store'."

For the occasional hermit who has never seen the show, it should perhaps be explained that Miss Taylor plays the part of Milly, the pure-hearted proprietress of North Fork's general store.

As for watching television, Joan says her children are carefully controlled.

MOM, DAD BOSS

"Too many children have become the bosses when it comes to TV," she says. "In our house mom and dad are in authority in all things. That's another way I'm old-fashioned; I believe in discipline and parental control. Kids want discipline."

Notable among those who believe in the same things is Lucas McCain of "Rifleman." In fact, since its inception, "Rifleman" has been less a shoot-em-up than a series about growing up in the west. That main focus has always been on Lucas's relationship with his son, Mark.

For viewers who worry that the addition of a woman to the McCain household will alter the closeness of father and son, Joan has some sensible words.

DELICATE THING

"It will be a delicate thing," she admits. "But certainly not impossible. Obviously, no one can come between Mark and Lucas—no one wants to. But Mark is a generous kind of kid—a boy who thinks about things and asks questions. I don't think he'll be thrown too starlet buildup as many of her more flightily contemporaries.

"Oh yes," says Joan, "I had the whole bit. Paramount wanted to make me the dark-haired Marilyn Monroe. I went along with them for a while but it just wasn't me . . . TV gave me a chance to shake loose from the earlier roles. It's been a God-send."

"I started out with a lot of girls who got the same kind of publicity push, and some really slipped off the deep end. They started believing their press clippings. I was lucky. I had an anchor . . ."

Joan's "anchor" was her husband, Leonard Freeman, whom she met prior to her Paramount contract. Freeman, a struggling young writer in those days, shared Joan's convictions about what came first in life—home or career.

"We talked it over even then," recalls the actress "and decided we weren't going to be one of Hollywood's typical fragmented couples. If Leonard had to dig ditches and I had to work as a waitress, we still figured it would be better than being separated. And I guess because we were willing to sacrifice success, it came along anyway, quietly and naturally."

All of which, naturally, adds up to a strong recommendation for Joan when it comes to matters matrimonial on "The Rifleman." Quite obviously, she's the kind of gal Lucas McCain is looking for — bright, beautiful, experienced with children and strong on old-fashioned frontier principle.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

By MARSHALL TUCKEY

Lucullus was a Roman statesman and a noted epicurean. He was famous for his fabulous banquets and is remembered today by a group of New York men who call themselves the "Lucullus Circle." Membership to the Circle is by invitation only—women are never invited. The members meet five times a year to enjoy rare viands and pay an annual fee of $250. They are permitted to bring a guest for an extra $50. Their banquets always end with dessert and serving of 8 kinds of cheese.
